The T-shaped, one-story structure was constructed in 1945 at a cost of $6,400.00. It sits along the anchorage apron, midway between hangars #800 and #811 and is essentially identical to buildings #819, #830, and #844. Built of "Theatre of Operation," "Temporary" (O.B.A.T.) type construction, the main building was built using plan 700-5201 by H & D Company. The addition (O.B.D-7 Modified) was built on plan 700-5201 by Hart and Blanchard Construction Company.

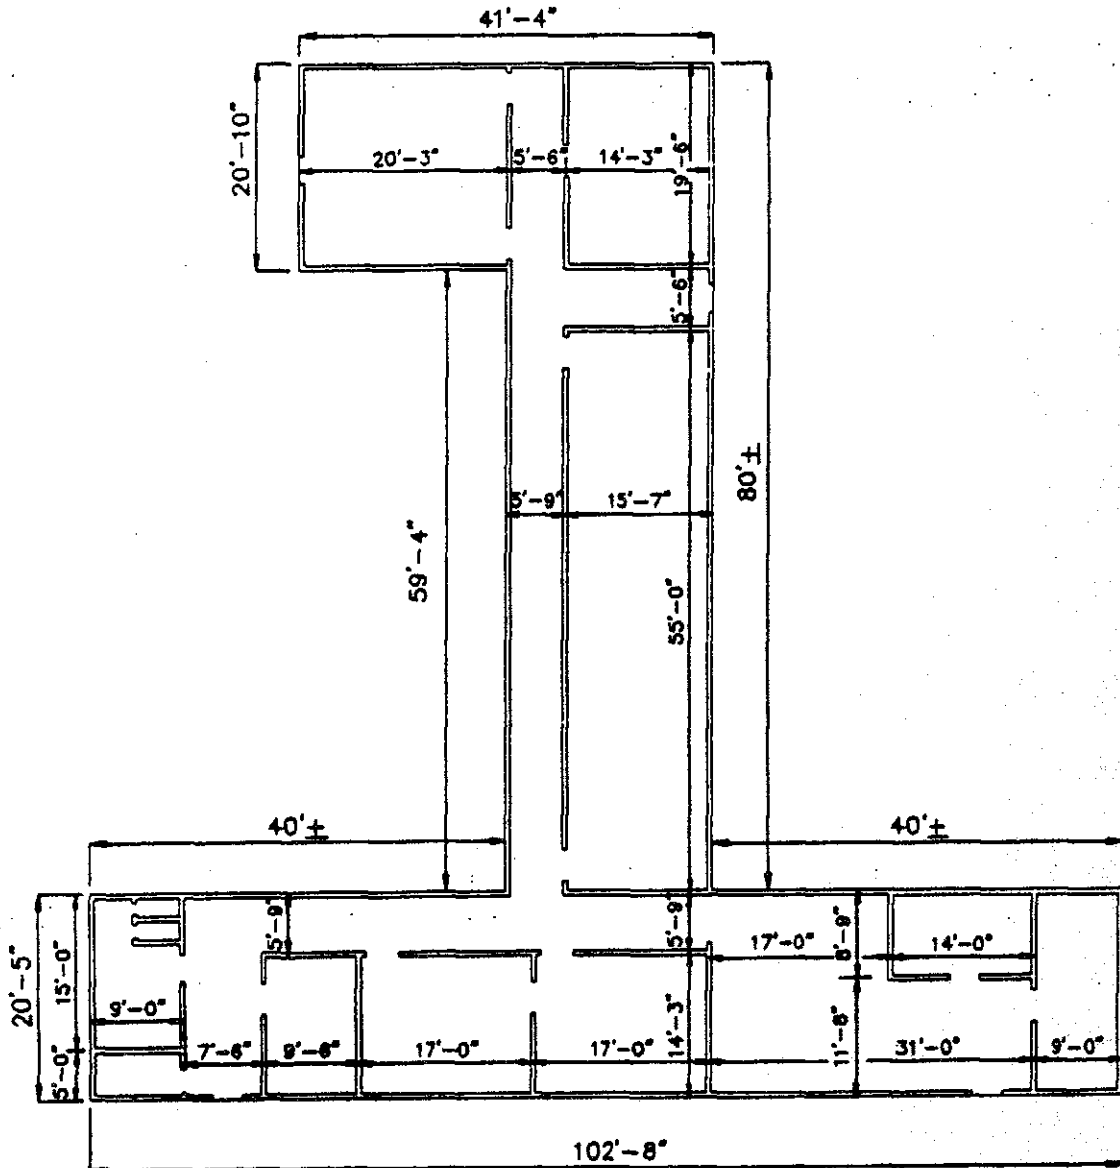

Building 807 measures 20 feet-5 inches by 102 feet-8 inches at the south wing, 21 feet-2 inches by 59 feet-4 inches at the trunk of the T and 20 feet-10 inches by 41 feet-4 inches at the north wing. Its foundation and floor are concrete, while its walls are wood frame with horizontal wood siding. The gabled roofs are covered with asphalt roll roofing. The entire 4,208 square feet of floor is found on one level. The interior included restrooms, space heaters, a 60-gallon hot water tank, and 48 light fixtures, some fluorescent and others incandescent. The exterior has been poorly maintained and has lost roofing. Most of the doors and small-paned windows have been boarded. Still the building seems to have retained its structural integrity.
